Since 1882 New Mexico property owners have point $3,332.431 in fire insurance promiums while the fire losses paid have totaled $5,037.122. The last four years have cut the business of the life assessment insurance companies in New Mexico almost one half, according to the figures given out by the state corporation commission. In 1911, those companies had in force in New Mexico 625 policies amounting to $15.28,960 as against 100 policies last year smounting to only $514,500. However, the premiums collected last year were larger than ever, amounting to $5000.

Not in El Paso, but Elsewhere, in Fight; Jitneman Talks of Plans Here.

Reports reaching El Paso from the Reports reaching El Paso from the north are that certain of the street raliway lines in northern cities are considering a plan to reduce the fare for specifical districts to three cents, it being thought that this cut will deprive the jimes of a lot of business which they are now getting and which the street car companies think they should have.

The plan, it is understood here, is that eight tickets be sold for 15 cents, these tickets to be accepted during certain hours and over short distances only. It is said to have originated in Vancouver, B. C., where the jitness are ninking an awful cut in the receipts of the street railway company. A few years ago, the Vancouver street railway sold cight tickets for a quaraer, but limited the hours of use from 5 to 8 a.m. and 5 to 7 p.m. About a rear ago, the ticket system was abolished and a straight five cent fare charged. The new plan would mean going back to the old system, except that the three cent fare would not entitle a passenger to ride more than one mile and no transfers would be given.

Los Angeles, too, is said to be considering this same plan. The jitness have made their biggest raids on the breasuries of the Los Angeles. San Francisco, Seattle, Portland and Vancouver companies.

Asked what the local fitne men would do if the El Paso street railway should adopt a similar system of fighting the litnes, it was said at the office of the Public Service company today that the cut would be met.

"If street railways can carry passengers a mile for three cents, so can we," said one of the drivers. They are talking a for about the fitness taking only the "tream of the business' on short runs, but they seem to overlook the fact that our cars run out to Highland Park and also to other localities in the outskirts of the city. If it wasn't for the jitnes, many of these people would have to walk.

"About transfers" Well, you must railre that the jitnes, many of these people would have to park he must pay if cents under the partonize two separate lines We are working thi as well organized as the street rail-ways.

"Except for the transfers, we already give every bit as good service as the street railway. There has been some talk of the cars turning back to fown when the last passenger is dropped and not going to the end of the line. We have certain cars that run through on all our lines, while others run far-enough to accommodate the passen-gers they carry and then double back to town for another load. We can't say what the independent drivers are do-ing, but all the men in the three as-sociations run on a distinct schedule."
